MINDFUL COLORING:

BLENDING C64 NOSTALGIA WITH ARTISTIC CALM

Coloring calms the brain's amygdala much like the Commodore 64's 1541 startup hum, inducing a meditative state similar to programming on this awesome computer. It quiets a restless mind, promoting mindfulness and tranquility, akin to the simple, pixelated graphics of a C64 game. This relaxation offers a peaceful break from daily complexities, reminiscent of the satisfaction from running your favorite demo production on this classic tech.

INSTRUCTIONS

-  Pick your colors, ideally selecting hues that resonate with the vibrant PEPTO color palette.
-  Draw the logos, channeling the charm and simplicity of Commodore 64 graphics.
-  Carefully cut out your creations and enjoy displaying them and satisfaction from the ongoing legacy of the C64.
